VERIFIED COMPLAINT

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

Plaintiffs Evgeny A. Freidman, Vladimir Basin, Mamed Dzhaniyev, Victory Taxi Garage, Inc., Tunnel Taxi Management, LLC, Downtown Taxi Management, LLC, Bazar Taxi Inc., Patron Taxi LLC, Grappa Taxi LLC, Cognac Taxi LLC, Calvados Taxi LLC, Tequila Taxi LLC, Jack Daniels Taxi LLC, Murzik Taxi Inc., Malinka Taxi Inc., Yagodka Taxi Inc., Persik Taxi Inc., Bratishka Taxi Inc., Pumo Taxi Inc., Piguet Taxi Inc., Kormilitza Taxi Inc., Prada Taxi, Inc., Student Taxi Inc., Hublot Taxi Inc., Torpedo Taxi Inc., Black Label Taxi LLC, Praga Taxi Inc., Two Hump Taxi LLC, Kroshka Taxi Inc., Lacoste Taxi Inc., Sangria Taxi LLC, Volba Taxi Inc. (collectively, “Plaintiffs”) by their attorneys, Herrick, Feinstein LLP, as and for their complaint against Defendants General Motors Corp., ElDorado National, Inc., and Arcola Sales & Service Corp. (collectively, “Defendants”) hereby allege as follows:

Nature of the Action

1. Plaintiffs seek to recover the damages they have suffered as a result of Defendants’, General Motors Corp. (“GM”), ElDorado National Inc. (“ElDorado”), and Arcola Sales & Service Corp. (“Arcola”), wanton and gross disregard for customer safety. Plaintiffs have suffered extensive losses because of Defendants’ negligence in improperly manufacturing, retrofitting, and selling defective Chevrolet Uplanders (the “Vehicles” or the “Taxis”), which, as Defendants knew, were specifically purchased for use as wheelchair-accessible taxicabs in New York City.

2. Plaintiffs have also been significantly damaged by Defendants’ warranty breaches. Defendants have breached the vehicles’ sales contracts with Plaintiffs and have violated Article 2 of the Uniform Commercial Code (“UCC”). Defendants’ breaches have gravely damaged Plaintiffs’ business. Plaintiffs are bogged down with the frustrating task of managing a fleet of dysfunctional taxicabs, relentlessly repairing the failing vehicles, finding new taxicab drivers to replace drivers who find it too risky to drive the vehicles, pacifying taxicab drivers who are losing money because the taxis are constantly off the road being repaired, addressing the citizens of New York who expected safe and functioning wheelchair-accessible taxicabs, loss of driver shifts, loss of reputation in the community, towing costs, the cost of alternate travel for stranded passengers, damages for lost opportunity of advertising on the tops of the vehicles, and the list of harms goes on and on.

3. Plaintiffs seek this court’s protection from any further wrongdoing by Defendants, and for money damages to compensate for Defendants’ blatant contract and warranty breaches.

Jurisdiction and Venue

4. This Court has jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332, because there is complete diversity between the parties, and the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000.00.

5. Venue is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391, because Plaintiffs' principal place of business is located in this district.

39. Upon information and belief, ElDorado National, Inc., a subsidiary of Thor Industries, is a Kansas corporation, whose principal place of business is located at 1655 Wall St., Salina, Kansas 67401. Upon information and belief, Defendant ElDorado is in the business of retrofitting automotive vehicles.

40. Arcola Sales & Service Corp. is a corporation whose principal place of business is located at 51 Kero Road, Carlstadt, New Jersey 07072. Upon information and belief, Defendant Arcola is in the business of selling automotive vehicles.

Background

41. Plaintiffs aver that as a result of the faulty design of the vehicles and Defendants' failed repair attempts, the vehicles Plaintiffs have purchased from Defendants cannot be utilized for reliable, safe, and functioning taxicabs as intended by Plaintiffs at the time of acquisition, and further, that Defendants' warranties have failed their essential purpose.

Wheelchair-Accessible Taxicabs and Medallions

42. The New York City taxicab industry is a private industry closely regulated by the New York City Taxi & Limousine Commission (the "TLC"). The TLC was created in 1971 by New York City Council legislation (Local Law 12) to regulate and improve taxi and livery service in New York City and to establish overall transportation policy governing these services. Upon information and belief, there are only 13,148 medallion taxicabs currently authorized to accept hails from passengers within the five boroughs of the New York City.

43. The TLC is responsible for, inter alia, licensing and regulating New York City's medallion (yellow) taxicabs, for-hire vehicles (community-based liveries and black cars), commuter vans, paratransit vehicles (ambulettes), and certain luxury limousines.

44. A "taxicab medallion" is a metallic symbol affixed to the hood of a New York City taxicab that represents a license from the City, authorizing the operation of a taxicab within the City of New York. The number of taxicab medallions in New York City is limited by law. Licensed taxicabs are the only motor vehicles permitted to accept passengers by street hail on the streets of New York City.

45. Not only is a medallion a license to operate a taxicab and generate income from such operations, but it is also a license to own and operate a small business, to use as security for loans, and to lease the license to other operators for a fee limited by law. Taxicab licenses may also be transferred to another qualified buyer subject to certain restrictions.

46. An "Accessible Medallion" is a restricted medallion and is defined as a "a taxicab license valid for use only with a vehicle accessible to a passenger using a wheelchair." R.C.N.Y. § 13-01(a). Presently, only 144 out of the 13,148 taxicab medallions in New York City are Accessible Medallions.

47. On or about October 15, 2004, the TLC, auctioned off Accessible Medallions. Plaintiffs bid on and won eleven (11) of these medallions.

48. On or about June 16, 2006, the TLC auctioned off more Accessible Medallions. Plaintiffs bid on and won fifty four (54) of these medallions.

49. The Accessible Medallions purchased by Plaintiffs gave Plaintiffs the right to operate wheelchair-accessible taxicabs in New York City that are licensed to pick up passengers from the street.

50. Upon information and belief, until in or around late 2007 the TLC had approved only one brand of vehicle for wheelchair-accessible purposes -- the Chevrolet Uplander. Arcola advertised and sold Uplanders that GM had given ElDorado authorization to retrofit as accessible to wheelchairs.

51. Upon information and belief, Defendants had presented this vehicle to the TLC for the TLC's approval for use of the retrofitted Uplander as a wheelchair-accessible taxi. The TLC then listed Defendant Arcola as an authorized dealer of these approved vehicles since the vehicle's specifications met the appropriate TLC requirements and ADA standards. Arcola advertised to the public that ElDorado's retrofitted vehicles were suitable for use as New York City taxicabs.

The Retrofitting

52. Upon information and belief, GM provided ElDorado with the Chevrolet Uplander frame. Based on GM's design, ElDorado then retrofitted the vehicles for wheelchair-accessibility at its factory in Kansas. Once the vehicles were retrofitted, the vehicles were delivered to Arcola for final delivery to the customers.

53. Upon information and belief, based on GM's design, ElDorado made substantial changes to the vehicle which involved extensive cutting to the body structure, including lengthening and lowering of vehicle components to accommodate wheelchair riding occupants entry into the vehicle.

54. Upon information and belief, General Motors also provided "original equipment manufacturer" (OEM) support as well as assistance to ElDorado both in producing and repairing ElDorado's failed retrofitting.

55. Defendants advertised and warranted that the Uplanders complied with the American Disabilities Act (ADA), the Administrative Code of the City of New York, and the TLC wheelchair-accessibility requirements.

56. In or around late 2006, Plaintiffs ordered fifty two (52) retrofitted Chevrolet Uplanders from Arcola (the "Orders"). Upon information and belief, Arcola informed Plaintiffs that the vehicles were to be retrofitted by ElDorado pursuant to the TLC specifications for wheelchair-accessible taxicabs.

57. Plaintiffs' Orders for the vehicles included modifications and additions so the vehicles could function as taxis. For example, the Orders included payment for taxicab walls and taxicab swing-in ramps.

58. Throughout the period that the vehicles were experiencing complications, Defendants knew about the vehicles' failures and were involved in the failed repair and re-engineering process. Upon information and belief, General Motors assisted ElDorado in designing a solution to implement to fix the doors of the retrofitted vehicles. In or around the end of 2007, Defendants allegedly designed a global repair to fix some the Uplanders' many problems, however, Defendants' design would not have helped the extensive damage that had already occurred because of Defendants' negligent manufacture and design.

59. Upon information and belief, General Motors has discontinued the particular design of the Chevrolet Uplander that Plaintiffs' purchased for use as taxicabs.

The Failed Repairs

60. Despite Defendants' advertisements and warranties, Plaintiffs received defective vehicles that were constantly failing.

61. Upon information and belief, ElDorado's retrofitting design for the purpose of wheelchair accessibility severely compromised critical components of the Uplander, such as the rear suspension, the transmission and the sliding door system. The harm to each of these further negatively impacted other of the vehicles' parts.

62. Upon information and belief, Defendants did not sufficiently test and/or properly engineer the vehicles or Defendants would have detected these substantial flaws.

63. As a result of Defendants' negligent engineering, the following common problems occurred: (a) the axles separated from the chassis, (b) doors fell from the hinges, at times while the vehicle was in motion, (c) faulty engine mounts came loose, (d) problems with defective trailing arm bushings occurred, (e) transmission failures occurred, and (f) problems occurred with the vehicles' on-board diagnostic technology ("OBD").

64. Each of the vehicles has required several repairs, and since early 2007, Plaintiffs have had to employ a tow truck more than 300 times to transport broken-down wheelchair-accessible taxis to repair shops.

65. Because each of the vehicles required extensive repairs, each of the vehicles was removed more than one time from the road for vehicle repairs, as well as to avert further breakdowns.

66. As a result of the repeated repairs and Plaintiffs' inability to use the vehicles, Plaintiffs have lost in total more than 7,820 shifts, at a loss of revenue of more than $2,000,000.

67. As a further result of the numerous safety problems with the taxis, taxi drivers have refused to drive these vehicles and these drivers have sought to drive taxicabs belonging to other owners.

68. Although Plaintiffs immediately notified Defendants of the vehicles' problems, Plaintiffs had to make multiple phone calls and send Defendants numerous letters and e-mails before Defendants would act toward fixing the defective retrofitting.

69. Though Defendants eventually performed makeshift repairs on the vehicles, the vehicles were so critically defective that even Defendants could not maintain sufficient manpower to address the defects.

70. Upon information and belief, Defendants' technicians would repair the immediate failures, but this did could not stop further damage from occurring. Further, the technicians' repairs caused further damage. Upon information and belief, the technicians did not advise Plaintiffs that the suspension, as altered by Defendants' design, was causing damage to the vehicle.

71. Upon recognizing that Defendants had made critical errors in the manufacture, design, and sale of the retrofitted vehicle, Plaintiffs demanded return of their money and demanded that Defendants remove all of the defective vehicles from Plaintiff and that Defendants refund him for the cost of the faulty vehicles. Defendants have refused all of Plaintiffs demands.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Contract)

72. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each and every allegation set forth in paragraphs "1" through "71" above.

73. The bills of sales between Plaintiffs and Defendants for the sales of the Chevrolet Uplanders were valid and enforceable.

74. The sales agreements reflected the bargain between and amongst the parties for the purchase of vehicles to serve as taxicabs with wheelchair-accessibility in New York City.

75. At all times relevant herein, Plaintiffs have fully performed their obligations under the foregoing agreements.

76. Pursuant to the sales agreements, Defendants agreed to provide Plaintiffs with new Chevrolet Uplanders retrofitted in a condition fit for use as wheelchair-accessible taxicabs.

77. As received by Plaintiffs, the vehicles were defective, and were not capable of meeting the standards of quality and performance for a vehicle of its kind.

78. Plaintiffs, on numerous occasions, gave Defendants timely notice of the vehicles' defects; nevertheless, Defendants' repairs were never able to cure the fundamental defects of the basic engineering flaws, as designed by Defendants.

79. Plaintiffs have not been able to, and will never be able to, reap the benefit of their bargain.

80. Defendants breached the sales agreements with Plaintiffs.

81. By reason of the foregoing, Plaintiffs have suffered damages, including but no less than the amount paid for the vehicles, $3,000,000, and consequential and incidental damages, in an amount to be determined at trial but believed to be no less than $3,000,000.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION (Breach of Warranty)

82. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each and every allegation set forth in paragraphs "1" through "81" above.

83. The vehicles constitute "goods" within the meaning of Article 2 of the Uniform Commercial Code as adopted in New York. Defendants, merchants of vehicles, sold the vehicles to Plaintiffs.

84. Defendants affirmatively represented to Plaintiffs that the vehicles would properly operate. This representation constituted an express warranty within the meaning of the UCC.

85. At the time that Defendants made this representation, Defendants knew or should have known that Plaintiffs would rely on their representations in deciding whether to purchase the vehicles.

86. Plaintiffs did rely on Defendants' representation that the vehicles had been correctly retrofitted for customers in wheelchairs and would be able to function properly. If Defendants had truthfully represented the unfit nature of the vehicles, clearly, Plaintiffs would not have purchased the vehicles.

87. Defendants' negligent design compromised critical components of the Chevrolet Uplanders, and the result was a vehicle that was not in the condition fit for use as wheelchair-accessible taxicabs.

88. By reason of the foregoing, Defendants have breached their express warranties to Plaintiffs.

89. As a direct and proximate cause of the breach of express warranty, Plaintiffs have been damaged in an amount to be determined at trial, but believed to be no less than $3,000,000.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Implied Warranty for a Particular Purpose)

90. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each and every allegation set forth in paragraphs "1" through "89" above.

91. The vehicles constitute "goods" within the meaning of Article 2 of the Uniform Commercial Code. Defendants, merchants of vehicles, sold the vehicles to Plaintiffs.

92. At the time that Defendants sold the vehicles to Plaintiffs, Defendants knew or had reason to know that Plaintiffs intended to use the vehicles as taxicabs. Defendants committed to retrofit the vehicles, to paint the vehicles yellow and to mark the vehicles with the New York City taxi logo. Defendants retrofitted a vehicle for the TLC to inspect and the TLC to approve; these vehicles were specially retrofitted to meet the standards of the NYC taxi industry, and to comply with TLC regulations.

93. The sales agreements reflected the bargain between and amongst the parties for vehicles to serve as taxicabs with wheelchair-accessibility in New York City. Defendants provided an implied warranty of fitness for the particular purpose as functional New York City wheelchair-accessible taxicabs.

94. Defendants have breached the warranty of fitness for a particular purpose because the vehicles they sold to Plaintiffs were defective, were not fit for use as wheelchair-accessible taxicabs, and have caused Plaintiffs tremendous damage.

95. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' breach of the implied warranty of fitness for a particular purpose, Plaintiffs have been damaged in an amount to be determined at trial, but believed to be no less than $3,000,000.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION (Injunction)

96. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each and every allegation set forth in paragraphs "1" through "95" above.

97. The vehicles' essential problems -- the poor engineering and design -- cannot be remedied.

98. Accordingly, Defendants must be compelled to relieve Plaintiffs of the defective, non-conforming vehicles to preclude future harm to Plaintiffs.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs Evgeny A. Freidman, Vladimir Basin, Mamed Dzhaniyev, Victory Taxi Garage, Inc., Tunnel Taxi Management, LLC, Downtown Taxi Management, LLC, Bazar Taxi Inc., Patron Taxi LLC, Grappa Taxi LLC, Cognac Taxi LLC, Calvados Taxi LLC, Tequila Taxi LLC, Jack Daniels Taxi LLC, Murzik Taxi Inc., Malinka Taxi Inc., Yagodka Taxi Inc., Persik Taxi Inc., Bratishka Taxi Inc., Pumo Taxi Inc., Piguet Taxi Inc., Kormilitza Taxi Inc., Prada Taxi, Inc., Student Taxi Inc., Hublot Taxi Inc., Torpedo Taxi Inc., Black Label Taxi LLC, Praga Taxi Inc., Two Hump Taxi LLC, Kroshka Taxi Inc., Lacoste Taxi Inc., Sangria Taxi LLC, Volba Taxi Inc., demand the entry of judgment against Defendants General Motors Corp., ElDorado National Inc., and Arcola Sales & Service Corp. awarding them as follows:

A. On the first cause of action, damages, including consequential and incidental damages, as a result of Defendants' breach of contract in an amount to be determined at trial, but no less than $3,000,000, and;

B. On the second cause of action, damages, including consequential and incidental damages, as a result of breaching the express warranty in an amount to be determined at trial, but no less than $3,000,000, and;

C. On the third cause of action, damages, including consequential and incidental damages, as a result of breaching the implied warranty of fitness for a particular purpose in an amount to be determined at trial, but no less than $3,000,000, and;

D. On the fourth cause of action an injunction to compel Defendants to refund Plaintiffs and to remove the vehicles from Plaintiffs' hands;

E. For such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.
